What is the Candace Elliott Scholarship?

The Candace Elliott Scholarship is dedicated to Candace Elliott, a talented and dedicated Business Consultant with Dermalogica. Her passion for education and giving back was truly inspirational and crucial to her devotion to her Partnership Schools and their students. Candace strived to help others reach their goals and personal dreams, and we honor this with this scholarship opportunity.

What Does the Scholarship Include?

We're seeking to find and award the most passionate, gifted newcomers to the world of professional skin care with up to three scholarships per year. The scholarship covers a six-month enrollment to Expert Program workshops (a $1400+ value), culminating in becoming a Dermalogica Expert. Recipients will have six months to complete the Expert Program. Each recipient will have access to jobs.dermalinstitute.com and the IDI Job Board. They will also receive support from a local Business Consultant to help with job placement or starting their very own Dermalogica Account.

Who is Eligible for the Candace Elliott Scholarship?

This program is intended for people new to the industry and include:

- California residents only
- Students enrolled in Dermalogica Partnership Schools
- Students within two months of graduation, those awaiting their esthetics license exam, and skin therapists who've been licensed for less than one year

How Are the Recipients Selected?

Once a year, a panel consisting of staff from The International Dermal Institute and Dermalogica Headquarters in Los Angeles, California, will review all submissions and choose up to three recipients.

Is the Candace Elliott Scholarship Based on Financial Need?

No. The scholarship was created to identify, seek out and nurture professional potential and excellence, regardless of financial circumstances. We will not research your income or other financial records. Submissions are judged on the applicant's level of motivation, sincerity, originality, and passion for a career in skin care.

How Do I Apply?

Your submission will consist of:

- Completed application (please see below for guidelines)
- Letter of recommendation from your school or instructor
- Photocopy of your esthetician's license (if applicable)

All components must be sent together. Incomplete entries will not be considered. By submitting your application, you are consenting to The International Dermal Institute and Dermalogica's use of your name, photography, video image, written materials, etc., in marketing materials.

Application instructions

- All creative submissions, regardless of selected medium, must address this theme: "Why Professional Skin Care is My Passion"
- Choose any format that you're comfortable with and that expresses you and your passion for skin care.
- You can e-mail any submissions to CandaceElliott.Scholarship@dermalogica.com or mail them to the address below.
- Incomplete submissions will not be considered.
- Label every component of your submission with your name, address and phone number.
- Projects/submissions become property of IDI and Dermalogica and will not be returned.
